In APA Style, the Introduction section never gets a heading and headings are not indicated by letters or numbers. For subsections in the beginning of a paper (introduction section), the first level of subsection will use Level 2 headings — the title of the paper counts as the Level 1 heading.

Here is a sample research paper and here is an analysis of a student introduction. Below is a sample APA introduction. As you can see, the first paragraph uses statistics to show the significance of the topic, the second goes into the past—the government policies that led to diversity. The third paragraph summarizes the future of diversity and the fourth describes the controversy over diversity, briefly stating the main point of each side.

Sample Papers. This page contains several sample papers formatted in seventh edition APA Style. The following two sample papers were published in annotated format in the Publication Manual and are provided here for your ease of reference. The annotations draw attention to relevant content and formatting and provide users with the relevant sections of the Publication Manual (7th ed.) to consult for more information.

A good introduction makes an intriguing assertion that your paper will then address. Introduce your topic briefly. For example, you could write an opening introduction that reads like this: Psychologists have recently found previously-undiscovered effects of classical music on the brain of a child under three.
