Vardenafil (the active ingredient in Levitra) starts working in less than one hour and usually provides relief from ED for about five to six hours. This means that Levitra lasts for longer than Viagra, but doesn't provide the multi-day effects of Cialis. Like other FDA-approved medications used to treat ED, Levitra is safe and effective. However, like other prescription medications, Levitra still has the potential to produce a range of mild and more serious side effects.
