887 - FORD KADE

Little Monkey throws a tantrum but then uses some coping techniques to calm back down. First, he lets himself cry a bit, then snuggles with a blanket. He takes deep breaths, sings quietly and is still and relaxed. Once he feels calmer, his parents give him lots of loving attention and they are set to have a good day.

We started at 18 months with this book, my son is 2 now...but in these 6 months this book has helped SO much with his understanding of what he looks & feels like when he has a tantrum, and the book itself can (sometimes) calm him down. We mimic the monkey when needed saying 'calm down little monkey' he says it too.

Little Monkey Calms down by Michael Dahl is a short story that talks about the various ways that Little Monkey deals with an upsetting situation. I think that this book would be a great way to teach very young children (2 to 4 years old) positive ways in which they can manage their very big emotions.
