F89 - JIMENEZ ANNA

The hunter demonstrates his skills by climbing to the top of the nearest hill with the eagle perched on his hand. Removing the bird's hood to reveal the visual stimuli of the world around it, he allows the eagle to scan the horizon and spot the boy with the fur "animal", waiting to run at the bottom of the hill.

Directed by Otto Bell. With Aisholpan Nurgaiv, Daisy Ridley, Rys Nurgaiv. Thirteen-year-old Aisholpan trains to become the first female in twelve generations of her nomad family to become an eagle huntress.

They feed the eagle, giving them a warm place to rest during the cold Mongolian nights and they teach them how to hunt. Eight years later, in spring time, the hunter will take his eagle to the mountains, will lay a butchered sheep on one of the cliffs as a farewell present, and he will send his eagle away for the last time.

Eagle of the Week - Katie

Hunter! October 10, 2020 by Katie H. When I learned that Bailey's Elementary School in Vienna, VA, needed some garden boxes, I was inspired to help. I've always liked the school as my mother works there, and I particularly enjoy the idea of garden boxes that would help kids learn more about nature.

A village hunter is really having a bad time; he goes for many days without any prey in sight and everyday he returns home, downcast, to the murmurs of the villagers and the mockery of the village kids. Then one day, he finds a wounded eaglet left alone in the bushes. Is he to claim it as a prize or to leave it alone to die?
